At last, a course that will show you step-by-step how to pass the computerized graphic tests! Drawing on 35 years of exam preparation experience, Lester Wertheimer, FAIA, has created this valuable home study course specifically to help candidates prepare for two of the graphic exam divisions: Building Planning and Building Technology. This course will show you: * How to prepare for the tests * How to take the tests * The best test-taking strategies * Graphic solutions that work The three graphic vignette types from the Building Planning Test and the six vignette types from the Building Technology Test are described in detail, and simulated vignettes are presented as examples. Each vignette is accompanied by a suggested graphic solution and a complete explanation and analysis of the design principles involved. Detailed illustrations are included, as well as a bibliography and index. This course will remove the mystery and guide you to a successful performance on the graphic tests.

Building Technology Graphic Mock Exam
Taylor & Francis
Last year's Building Technology Mock Exam contains different vignettes, covering subjects similar to 2003's Mock Exams, and provides additional practice. Each Mock Exam is similar to the corresponding division of the actual computer exam in style, standards, and number of vignettes. Included are written programs, preprinted sheets on which candidates present their solutions, and complete directions.

Practical, research-based overview of careers in technical communication featuring narratives from working professionals in a range of careers and international contexts

Technical communication is a diverse, growing, and rapidly changing field, and an up-to-date guide to careers will be useful for students and junior professionals in the US and Europe. Competing books on technical communication careers are outdated and do not include non-US contexts; this book contains current research and practitioner narratives that most closely examine careers as they operate today.

As sales managers are encouraged to manage increasingly global territories, the art of selling becomes complicated and the rules of negotiation more diverse. This absorbing book considers the many facets of cross-cultural sales management, to provide salespeople and managers with a guide to making the most of the global sales force. Topics covered include: * cross-cultural negotiations * hiring, training, motivating and evaluating the international sales force * Customer Relationship Management (CRM) * sales territory design and management. Included in the book are ten international case studies designed to give sales students, salespeople and their managers an explanation of diverse cultures and the dilemmas, situations and opportunities that arise when selling across borders. The experienced international authors have brought together the most up-to-date information on the global marketplace - a subject neglected by many other texts. While still tackling sales from a managerial perspective, its cross-cultural approach makes it essential reading for those wishing to succeed in global sales.

Requirements for treatment planning in the mental health and addictions fields are long standing and embedded in the treatment system. However, most clinicians find it a challenge to develop an effective, person-centered treatment plan. Such a plan is required for reimbursement, regulatory, accreditation and managed care purposes. Without a thoughtful assessment and well-written plan, programs and private clinicians are subject to financial penalties, poor licensing/accreditation reviews, less than stellar audits, etc. In addition, research is beginning to demonstrate that a well-developed person-centered care plan can lead to better outcomes for persons served. * Enhance the reader's understanding of the value and role of treatment planning in responding to the needs of adults, children and families with mental health and substance abuse treatment needs * Build the skills necessary to provide quality, person-centered, culturally competent and recovery / resiliency-orientated care in a changing service delivery system * Provide readers with sample documents, examples of how to write a plan, etc. * Provide a text and educational tool for course work and training as well as a reference for established practitioners * Assist mental health and addictive disorders providers / programs in meeting external requirements, improve the quality of services and outcomes, and maintain optimum reimbursement
