Are you an English language teacher that struggles to find quality teaching resources and don't have the time to create them? Are you an English language student who has a hard time finding interesting materials to help you practice your grammar and vocabulary in meaningful ways? Then this is the book for you! This book is a collection of materials that I have created throughout my English teaching career. They are meant to give students the opportunity to use the language in engaging ways and to practice pertinent skills, such as writing and speaking. The book is aimed at students in Pre-Intermediate and Intermediate levels and is best suited for teenagers to adults. I know how stressful teaching English can be and how important it is to have good quality materials to supplement the required coursebook. This book is for teachers and students who are always on the go and don't have the time to look for supplementary materials. Looking on the internet can be overwhelming and resource books are sometimes insufficient. I have utilized all of these lessons with my students on numerous occasions and can guarantee they will be successful! In the future, I hope to create more books for other levels. So if you're a busy teacher or student of English and are looking for some exciting and useful resources, you should buy my book!

Lillian Wong brings together evidence-informed studies which are at the forefront of higher education developments in English language teaching and learning, and shares expertise from prominent academics in Hong Kong. Written by experienced practitioners who are active in the evolving field of scholarship of teaching and learning, it provides accessible and engaging insights into best practices in new and innovative areas, such as communities of practice, scholarship, big data analytics, digital literacies, blended learning, small private online courses, dialogic use of exemplars, students as tutors and critical thinking. The book covers best practices in three interrelated key areas in university English language education, including curriculum design and pedagogy, use of technologies and the teaching and learning of English in the disciplines. Linking theory and practice, the chapters discuss the emphasis on EAP/ ESP in university English language education, how technological developments are impacting the field and the implications for further research and the teaching of English in higher education. This resourceful collection is essential reading for teachers in-service and intraining, or those working in language education at the tertiary level where English is being used as an academic lingua franca, a medium of instruction or where EAP/ ESP plays an important role. Researchers in TESOL and applied linguistics, curriculum designers and leaders, teacher educators and policymakers as well as undergraduate and postgraduate students will also find it valuable.
